The Lieutenant-Governorship.

DIXON, July 3, 1860.

SIR.—Observing that the Republican Convention of the Third Congressional District, recently assembled at Bloomington, declined to refer the future selection of a candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, I shall be content with a brief expression of my views of the candidate of the Republican party of Illinois, while so large and respectable a portion of the State make objection thereto.

GRAND WIDE-AWAKE RALLY,

—AND—

Pole Raising and Collation.

The Wide Awakes of the city are to be out in force this afternoon and evening, in events that will make the day memorable.

A Republican flag staff is to be raised at the corner of Huron and St. Clair streets, in the North Division, at the residence of Solomon Sturgess, to be followed by speaking, from gentlemen announced by the Committee, as follows:

Hon. JOHN WENTWORTH,
" N. B. JUDD,
" WM. BROSS,
A. D. BRADLEY,
E. C. LARNED,
S. S. FREEY,
A. G. HENRY,
SOLOMON STURGESS.

A platform is to be erected of rails split on the spot. The speaking is to be followed by a collation to the Wide Awakes, furnished by Mr. Sturgess. The Lombard Brothers are to give several of their fine songs.

The following is the announcement of the Grand Commander to the Wide Awakes:

HEAD-QUARTERS WIDE AWAKE HALL, 25 Lake street, 2d fl., corner of Lake and Franklin streets, Chicago, July 13, 1860.

GENERAL ORDER NO. 1.

The Wide Awakes of Chicago will assemble at their Hall, 25 Lake street, at 1 p. m., and march to the ground, where the Pole is to be raised, in the order of the Commander-in-Chief, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon without fail. After the raising of the Pole, there will be a parade, with torches. All old uniforms are invited, as also Wide Awake companies from the West Division. The Great Western band furnish the music.

The West Side Union Depot—Crossing the Streets at Grade.

Scarcely any projects have encountered public opposition for some time past than have received more liberal or hearty support from us, than that of uniting in one great depot on the West Side, the thorough-ares from the east, south, north and west, that have been for several months pleading to effect the same. We understood to be the Michigan Southern, Pittsburg and Fort Wayne, Alton and St. Louis, Rock Island, Galena and Chicago, Illinois Central, Chicago and Milwaukee, and Chicago, St. Paul and Fond du Lac. We have entered into the furtherance of the measure upon the ground that uniting great public advantages would be reaped thereby. It still has our hearty support.

But no pause and must be unchallenged in the opposition, when a new phase of the case presents itself in the shape of an ordinance now before the Common Council, which must not be passed in its present form.

The sole condition by which the sympathy of our public, and certainly our own, was enlisted in the measure was that the roads were to run their trains along the river front, crossing the great thoroughfares or bridge streets through tunnels in the same to the bridge, and not interfering in no way with access to and from the West Division.

A measure in accord to be made to receive the sanction of the Council, allowing the Chicago and Milwaukee and the Chicago and Northwestern to cross the bridge streets at grade for one year, the companies to protect their crossings by stationing flagmen and by gates.

This is a dangerous concession and must not be allowed. We are not surprised to see that it creates a profound sensation on the West Side. It will not do for a repeal all along the West Side access to the river, the massive, which is best understood, one need only to pass an hour in the busiest part of the day at the intersection of North Clark street with the track of the Galena Company.

The thousands of our citizens who traverse daily West Lake, and Randolph and Madison streets cannot entertain for a moment, nor do we, the idea of the barking and trundling to and fro across the streets of the heavy and ponderous freights seeking this privilege. It must not be granted then, and it will be a fatal error for it should that any West Side Addersons seats for such a measure.

True, it is asked only in connection with the Union Depot, but the Council is to be the judge of possess railroads of franchises once gained.

Let the great West Side property owners think of this, when only by the river, and let the tunnels be made before the tracks are laid. The people must insist on it, or the Council Addersons must entertain no other proposition for an instant.

We were not surprised to find an extraordinary [illegible]

The Next Congressional District of Chicago Illinois—Our Representative.

Editors Press and Tribune:

The Republican Convention, which assembled here last May, adopted, as one of the cardinal tenets of the party it represented, this resolution:

"That a railroad to the Pacific ocean is imperatively demanded by the whole country; and that the Federal Government ought to render immediate and efficient aid in its construction."

The Maryland Institute Convention, largely composed of gentlemen who withdrew from the Convention held at the Front Street Theatre, pledged itself and the party it represented, to use every means to secure the passage of a bill by Congress for the construction of a railroad from the Mississippi to the Pacific ocean at the earliest practicable moment. And the Front Street Theatre Convention, which nominated Judge Douglas, resolved that such a railroad was one of the necessities of the age, and pledged itself to such constitutional enactment as would secure its construction at the earliest practicable period.

Thus the three great parties of the country are committed to the construction of such a road; and not only so, but to its immediate construction, rendering alike its necessity and the practicability of its construction so well known to the intelligent voters of the country, that any party which should dare to oppose it on the day is no later distant when Government aid will be granted for such purpose, to such extent, in such form, and for such route, as shall be made to appear proper and feasible; unless in the meantime, dishonest politicians and jobbers shall succeed, through their appliances by which legislation is perverted and corrupted, in passing through Congress, and obtaining the sanction of the President, a bill to which they can herself a made secondary to political purposes; or is to be used as a means in the hands of designing men to defeat the very object which the people of the country and its advisers for the public weal

GRAND WIDE-AWAKE RALLY.

Pole Raising and Collation.

The Wide Awakes of the city are to be out in force this afternoon and evening, to events that will make the day memorable.

A Republican flag staff is to be raised at the corner of Huron and St. Clair streets, in the North Division, at the residence of Solomon Sturgess, to be followed by speaking, from patriotic sentiments announced by the Committee, as follows:

Hon. John Wentworth,
" N. B. Judd,
Wm. Bross,
A. D. Bradley,
E. C. Larned,
S. B. Prentiss,
A. G. Hesing,
Solomon Sturgess.

A platform is to be erected of rails split on the spot. The pole-raising is to be followed by a collation to the Wide Awakes, furnished by Mr. Sturgess. The Lombard Brothers are to give several of their stirring songs.

The following is the announcement of the General Committee of the Wide Awakes:

Procession will be formed at Wide Awake Hall, 59 Lake street, at 4 o'clock, P. M., and at the Central, Madison and Lake, at 4:30, P. M., and at the Central, Madison and Clark, at 4:30 o'clock, P. M., and proceed to the pole in the North Division, via Michigan avenue, Huron and Wells streets, headed by Scates's excellent Band. The procession will be escorted by the Hyde Park Wide Awakes, and a torchlight procession of the Wide Awakes of the South Division will be formed and join the march.

The West Side Union Depot—Crossing the Streets at Grade.

Scarcely any question has occupied public attention for some time past that has received more liberal or hearty support than us, than that of uniting in one great depot at the West Side, all the thoroughfares from the east, south, north and west, that have been for several months seeking to effect the same. We understood to be the Michigan Southern, Pittsburgh and Fort Wayne, Alton and St. Louis, Rock Island, Galena and Chicago Union R. R., Chicago and Milwaukee, and Chicago, St. Paul and Fond du Lac. We have entered into the furtherance of the measure most heartily, believing great public advantages would be reaped thereby. It still has our hearty support.

But we pause and must be unalterably in the opposition, when a new plan of the depot proposals itself in the shape of an ordinance now before the Common Council, which must not be passed in the present form.

The sole condition by which the sympathy of our public, and certainly our own, was enlisted in the measure was that the roads were to run their trains along the river front, crossing the great thoroughfares at bridge streets through trestle in the ascents to the bridges, and thus interfering in no way with access to and from the West Division.

A message is sought to be made to receive the sanction of the Council, allowing the Chicago and Milwaukee and the Chicago and Northwestern roads to make the bridge streets at grade for one year, the companies to put up the necessary bridges by sustaining flagmen and by gates.

This is a dangerous concession and must not be allowed. We are not willing to say that it creates a profound sensation on the West Side. It will not do to repeat all along the West Side scenes to the Lombard Brothers, who, to best understand, one need only to pass an hour in the busiest part of the day at the intersection of North Clark street with the track of the Galena Company.

The thousands of our citizens who traverse Wells, West Lake, and Randolph and Madison streets cannot entertain for a moment, nor do we, the idea of the backing and trundling to and fro across those streets of the trains of the great thoroughfares seeking this privilege. It must not be granted them, and it will be a fatal vote for those of that day West Side Aldermen cools for such a measure.

True, it is asked only temporarily—but what possesses railroads at franchises once gained.

Let the great West Side bridge streets remain as they are, broken only by the gates, and let the tunnels be made before the trucks are laid. The people must insist on it, or rather, the Aldermen must entertain no other proposition an instant.

The Next Congress—Interest of Chicago to Secure a Pure Representative.

Editors Press and Tribune:

The Republican Convention, which assembled here last May, adopted, as one of the national tenets of the party it represented, this resolution:

"That a railroad to the Pacific ocean is imperatively demanded by the whole country; and that the Federal Government ought to render immediate and efficient aid in its construction."

The Maryland Institute Convention, largely composed of gentlemen who withdrew from the Convention held at the Front Street Theatre, pledged itself and the party it represented, to use every means to secure the passage of a bill bill by Congress for the construction of a railroad from the Mississippi to the Pacific ocean, at the earliest practicable moment. And the Front Street Theatre Convention, which nominated Judge Douglas, resolved that such a railroad was one of the necessities of the age, and pledged itself to such constitutional enactment as should ensure its construction at the earliest practicable period.

Thus the three great parties of the country are committed to the construction of such a road; and not only so, but to its immediate construction, avoiding alike its necessity and the conviction that such necessity is well known to the intelligent voters of the country, North and South. And it is safe to assume that the day is not distant when the Government will be granted for such purpose, to such extent, in such form, and for such route, as shall be found the cheapest and feasible; unless, in the meantime, dishonest politicians and jobbers shall succeed, through their appliances by which legislation is perverted and corrupted, to posting through Congress, and obtaining the sanction of the President to, some one of the many bills self is made secondary to political purposes; or is to be used as a means in the hands of speculators, for their own private interests, and to develop still further the utter disregard of common honesty which has so lamentably characterized the administration of transactions of the government and its advisers for the past three or four years. That the road will be built, or at least commenced, and for a time vigorously prosecuted, and that speedily, is almost absolutely certain. The only questions now undecided being the kind and extent of aid to be furnished to the road by the general government, and the route upon which it shall be constructed. Its absolute necessity is becoming each day so apparent that both these questions must and will be speedily solved.

At this very time the government itself is cut off from its distant territory, and its intercourse with the State of California; the mails are stopped, and the entire population of the western slope of the country, without government or a moment's warning, are deprived of eastern newspapers, market advices and quotations, by the arbitrary act of a single individual. What it is in his power, by the simple exercise of his will, not only to discourage the entire business relations of the eastern and western States, but to work the incalculably more evil with the government. This cannot, and will not long be suffered, and, at whatever cost of money and effort, the road must be built.

There is no section of this country, not even California, more interested in the solution of the two questions, of how, and upon what route such road shall be constructed, than the Northern portion of Illinois, or, coming down to a narrower point, than Chicago. Whether the route shall be south, through Texas, more northerly by the way of St. Louis, or shall take Northern Illinois and Chicago in its course from towards the seaboard, is a matter of so large importance to us as to be overbalance as I unhesitatingly say it is, by the overwhelming reason, that our position be noted upon by the Congress that will assemble at Washington on the First Monday in December next. Together with that candidate for the unchosen of the Republican party, which nomination is equivalent to an election; and the question of the location of the Railroad must be in danger of being lost sight of in the harshness and bitterness of personal contest.

The party does not owe the nomination to any man; but each and every one of its members owes to it an entire forgetfulness of self; and of

Our Public Schools.

THEIR ANNIVERSARY DAY.

The High School at the Wigwam.

An Audience of 5,000 at a School Exhibition.

THE AWARDS OF MERIT.

The most skeptic whether our community feel a pride in our Public Schools, and especially in our High School must have been convinced by the events of yesterday.

We have fourteen principal Public Schools. These are as follows:

Chicago High School, corner Monroe street, between Halsted and Peoriines. Charles A. Dupuy, Principal.

Dearborn School—Madison street, between State and Dearborn—George D. Broomell, Principal.

Jones School, corner Clark and Harrison streets. Willard Ward, Principal.

Franklin School, fulton street, between Halsted and Union—Daniel S. Wentworth, Principal.

Haines School, corner of Ohio and Lasalle streets. Benjamin Dibosch Principal.

Foster School—Between Division and Sedgwick streets. Sarah G. Lane, Principal.

Scammon School—Between Division and Sedgwick streets. Miss Sarah A. Cheney, Principal.

Scott School—Corner of Michigan avenue and Monterey street—Francis A. Bonham, Principal.

Brown School, corner of Warren and Page streets. Samuel P. Gale, Principal.

Foster School, Union street, near Twelfth. Miss Mary Ann Cook, Principal.

Ogden School, Ogden street, between Washington and Randolph—George W. Dow, Principal.

Primary School, corner of Orchard and Willow st reets. Comp. Reserve, Principal.

Scammon School, corner of Jackson and Sangamon streets. Eugene Askes, Principal.

Newberry School, corner of Jackson and Sangamon streets. Miss Mary Ann Cook, Principal.

The Annual Exhibitions in the Primary departments of these schools have been given during the week, and we have now but lightly attended, their audiences being less by far than those assembled at the High School. In the various schools consisted of speaking select pieces, dialogues, singing, physical exercises, which were an especial feature, and in some instances a few pieces in reading and arithmetic.

Yesterday was forever the crowning occasion—the exhibition in the fine auditorium of the several Grammar Schools, and of the Chicago High School. Elsewhere we present such reference to some of these as we have been able to procure. These several occasions were of much interest and reflected great credit upon the teachers and their instructors. Probably throughout the city yesterday, from eight to ten thousand persons in all, as parents and friends, gave attention, and were led to listening to the declamations, compositions and other exercises of their School Exhibitions, and were thus led to take an intelligent pleasure in the great feature of the day and year.

Exhibition of the High School.

For the occasion before this an adequate audience room in the city has been found. Metropolitan Hall has been densely packed, leaving hardly standing room, and the later comers crowded out and forced to retire.

The great Wigwam came happily in this year, and there the Exhibition took place yesterday afternoon. The audience was large, and the affair was altogether a delightful success. We doubt if ever before in this country was witnessed such a gathering of an audience of 5,000 at a School Exhibition.

The most admirable arrangements had been made for the convenience of the audience and for the several schools, which were numerously represented. The area of the floor was completely filled, and the spacious galleries, the broad gallery over the entrance, the tiers of seats curtained off by American flags gave a convenient retiring room for the participants in the various exercises of the occasion.

Chas. A. Dupuy, Esq., in four years the excellent and faithful Principal of the High School, made a brief but clear retiral from that post to the profession of the law, presided yesterday. A fine band occupied the orchestra space in front of the stage.

Quaker City Insurance Company of Philadelphia.—We call attention to the following card from the highly respectable firm of Mefferland & Co., Hayworth, Ill. It shows the prompt manner in which losses are adjusted and paid by the above company. The branch office for the Northwest is at No. 2 Masonic Temple, Dearborn street, Chicago:

Hayworth, June 16, 1860.

This is to certify that we had the misfortune to have our store and goods destroyed by fire a short time since, on which we were insured in the Quaker City Insurance Company of Philadelphia. We immediately put first their general agent, Carrel L. North, of Chicago, and he came promptly forward and settled our loss in a very honorable and satisfactory manner, and we have recovered the full amount of our policy, $3,000. We therefore recommend to all who want insurance in a safe, reliable company, to patronize the Quaker City, of Philadelphia.

CORRECTION.

The call for the Republican State Convention, to nominate a candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, was incorrectly printed in this paper yesterday, in one particular—the day fixed for the Convention being the eighth of August, instead of the fifth. An error occurred, also, in Judge Trumbull's first appointment, which is Greenville, (Bond Co.,) instead of Greenville, (Putnam Co.) Judge Trumbull's appointment at Monticello, Piatt Co., is on Monday, the 30th inst., instead of the 29th inst.

PROGRESS OF ENLIGHTENMENT.

All the indications as to the result of the present political campaign are of the most gratifying character. From every quarter we hear daily of accessions to our strength, and of desertions from the enemy. The indiscriminate warfare in the ranks of the Democracy is causing the honest men in that party to reflect upon its character and conduct; and not as fast as their eyes are opened they lose no time in abandoning the rotten pro-slavery organization. It is useless to deny the fact that the reason why Mr. Douglas has been able to make head against the administration in the free States, during the past two years, was the conviction on the part of the rank and file of the Democracy that he was really fighting their battles of freedom—that he was opposed to the extension of slavery, and to the overwhelming influence which the South has for so long a period exerted in the Federal Government. But for this conviction he would have fallen as low in the estimation of his party in the free States as Buchanan himself. His party in Illinois, as to numbers, would probably not exceed that of the Administration. Indeed, as he has no Federal patronage to dispense, it would be more likely to fall below than outnumber it.

But, as we said before, the present strife in the Democratic party is leading honest men to investigate more closely than they have ever done before the character of Mr. Douglas' claim as a champion of freedom. The fact that certain of his trumpeters are now denying that he has ever said "he did not care whether slavery were voted up or voted down," is significant of what is going on in the minds of the honest masses of the old Democratic party. But this denial will be of no service in the face of the recent inquiry which is everywhere being made. The proof is clear and unmistakable, and within every man's reach. Moreover, Mr. Douglas's boast, made to the United States Senate, just before the meeting of the Charleston Convention, that his policy had made slave territory of free territory more than five times as large as the State of New York—a boast which none of his friends now the hardihood to deny—would of itself be quite sufficient to undeceive such of his supporters as have been more believing than to be opposed to the extension of slavery. So, also, the fact that his associate on the ticket for Vice President, is in favor of a slave code, the re-opening of the slave trade, and the ownership of labor by capital, is quite sufficient to open the eyes of indifferents as to whether slavery is voted up or voted down. The common sense of the people teaches them that if these sentiments were at all repugnant to Mr. Douglas, he would not consent to such an association for a moment, nor would he urge his friends to elevate the holder of them to a position which, in a certain contingency, would devolve upon him the administration of the General Government.

All these features being earnestly canvassed by the rank and file of the Democracy of the free States, and thousands of their number have already withdrawn their party allegiance. Our information from every quarter leads us irresistibly to the conclusion that the stampede will be immense. Democrats will see more and more marked as the canvass progresses, and Douglas' real position comes to be more fully understood. The instincts and the reason of the people of the free States are on the side of freedom.

SUBSIDE AND FUSE DISUNIONISTS!

Echo answers Where. Disunionists of the Democracy have commenced clamoring for the Union. Before the election of Speaker Pennington, and indeed up to the time of the Charleston Convention, both were threatening the country with irrepressible dissolution in

A LOOK AHEAD.

The time seems to have come in which the people of the Northwest may be congratulated on the certainty of an abundant crop. In full half of Illinois, Iowa and Indiana the wheat has been secured; and before the end of next week, the north parts of those States and all Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota will be in the harvester's hands. At this time in all fields except those later sown, the ripening grain is beyond the reach of the ordinary causes which destroy it, and nothing but unnatural and unexpected calamities can now rob the husbandmen of the bountiful fruits of the soil. Fields even now before people's eyes a yield. An immense area has been planted; the "stand" is all the farmer can wish, and the growth, unless interrupted by excessive rains, will insure a crop that has never been surpassed. We may promise an abundance of breadstuffs, whatever, less than the miraculous, may come.

We confess to a fresh elation, at this time, from congratulating the business men of all kinds, on the promise that this harvest already gives of increased activity in every department of trade and industry. The panic which threw so long hung over the West seem about to be carried off by the favoring gales that have brought us abundance, and though none may hope or wish for a return of the wild, reckless excitement which marked the progress of 1854, '55 and '56, all may rejoice that the stagnation that has prevailed, the hard times that have oppressed and impoverished, and the despondency that distressed the nation, are to be repaid by activity, plenty and well founded hope.

Other assurances of a comforting character are before the country. The long reign of the false and rotten Democracy is coming to an end. The administration of government so far as it has been conducted by the Democracy is opposed in able and honest hands; and the corruptions and extravagances by which the two years of Democratic rule have been marked will give way before the rule of our pure and incorruptible statesmen on whom all patriots may rely. His inauguration will unquestionably be followed by a strong and healthful tone in the business of the country. Those who desire to control the arts and sciences, for they are closely connected with scientific principles. A Their place of deposite, at the sign of the mermaid, proves that they have been put there at the time the mound was formed—it may be thousands of years ago. The Indian tradition among we feel quite certain—that in them we have the most ancient Me-tais rolls, or, we suppose, drawings that are produced on paper that unrolls the Masonry of the present with the Masonry of a period antecedent to the Flood, unites the Craftsmen of the Nineteenth Century with their ancient brethren of Egypt—of Tyre—and of Palestine."

It is carried by Archæologists that the grand system of ancient earth embankments, sacred enclosures, fortifications mounds, etc., in the valley of the Mississippi, seem to be of a mythological character. Some suppose to be Masonic grams, and there is one formation in Adams County, Illinois, which reminds one irresistibly of the Hindoo mythology, that the world was a egg-born of a serpent. It is a serpent-shaped embankment, about seven yards high, which appears to be emitting from a prone earth mound an egg-shaped figure. Another, which it is supposed to represent the sun also this subject, which, I will remark, is here quite generally known by Archæologists, whose information upon the subject, and their theories, differ from being a special or satisfactory. My purpose in alluding to this interesting feature of the religion of the is to supply the connecting link in investigations relating to the Ancient Brotherhood.

A Visit to the Mother of Statesmen—A Call on Douglas.

[Editorial Correspondence of the True Whig.]

Rock Springs, July 8, 1860.

Passing the day here, I went to see Mrs. Reed, the offer by a resident of the hills as of an inducement to the family of Mrs. Jan Granger, Mr. Grier seemingly was concerned in the money of Dr. Dougl. of Brandon, Vt., and the mother of Stephen A. Douglas, the Democratic candidate for the Presidency.

The residence of the venerable but most estimable couple is about two miles south of the Gill on Spring Hook. Of the many elegant farms in the fertile county, that of Mr. Granger will rank among the first. It is a two story frame house, with L, a commodious dwelling, and two barns, etc., covers considerable ground. Within and without, the well-cared-for walks are tasteful, and have nothing lacking to by-subsidies and shrubs, and out-houses, all are neat and supply, and the broad fields stretching to the north and south, mark the spot as the home of the local pride and comfort. It is just such a picture of rural quiet and plenty that poets have celebrated in verse: that drumsticks have painted to my lady fair, and which pens and tongues of others envy so

The family consists of Mr. and Mrs. Granger, a son, and a daughter, who is married. Mr. G. is an unusual relationship exists between the elder and the younger Granger, inasmuch as the elder Granger married the mother of Judge Douglas, the father of the younger Granger married A. Douglas. The younger Jr. Granger was born and at the time of my visit, he was daily expected here with Mr. Douglas himself.

THE NEWARK HOLY STONE.

Discovery of other Masonic Jewels.

[Correspond ence of the Cincinnati Commercial.]

The general impression seems to be, that the Newark Keystone is a Masonic emblem. If Masonic, it is not the first discovery of similar jewels among the ancient monuments of the West. In the October number of the Masonic Review are some articles by Rev. Alexander, Cornelius Moore, Esq., giving an interesting description of a variety of interesting relics found in a mound near Centreville, Wayne County, Indiana, sometime previous to the publication of Mr. Moore's article.

The "ancient Masonic Jewels" in Mr. Moore's possession, were taken out of a mound fifty-four feet in diameter, and about eight feet high above the level of the plain in which the mound was first surveyed by the white, it was covered with old and stately oaks. A few years ago, a portion of one of these trees was blown down during a violent gale. During 1859, a portion of that side having been partially undermined, slid down, and revealed some curious articles near the centre, about 4 feet from the surface of the mound—the exact point at which all previous and subsequent diggings of ancient relics in Western mounds had been made.

Among these articles were a Square, a Level, a perfect Keystone, a Gavel, a Maul or gavel, a partially finished Keystone, a state symmetrical figure corresponding in shape with has outlines of the forty-seventh problem of Euclid, two interlaced triangles, which had been much injured, and several other curious articles, the uses of which cannot be determined. Mr. Moore has all the articles enumerated, save the square and level, which were broken and lost. The Keystone is about four inches long, by about two wide at the largest end, and about three eighths of an inch thick. The material is apparently sandstone, or a petrified color. There is a small hole in the centre, which was apparently made so that it could be suspended with a cord. The stone is well polished, the proportions exact, and the work so admirably executed, that a mason could not be excelled by modern implements with the best instruments.

[illegible] may be said also of the other finished articles, except, perhaps, the gavel, which seems to have been imperfectly worked. The material of the latter implement is a species of slate. It is of a much softer texture than the Keystone, and could have been easily made so that it could be suspended with a cord. The gavel

Medicines, &c.

THE GREATEST WONDER OF THE NINETEENTH CENTURY,

Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative,

Still Unrivalled, Lewis, Mo., Decemb'r. Before we publish a letter to Dr. Wood, we will state the circumstances that induce us to do so. Wood's Hair Restorative, a preparation which we have used in our family for the last two years, and from a reliable source. We consider it unrivalled, and we have never known it to fail in restoring hair to the head, or preventing its falling off. Yours truly,

REV. MARTIN, Pastor.

Portland, O., Wood & Co.—Dear Sirs: I have used your Hair Restorative, and can say it is the best article I ever used for that purpose. I was induced to make application to you by seeing the effects it had produced on my own head, and on the heads of others. I had been for a long time bald on the crown of my head, and my hair was falling off very rapidly, and was fast becoming quite thin on the sides. I was completely disappointed, both on my own and him, and not having any respect for advertising quacks, I determined not to purchase it; but I was induced to purchase a bottle, and to my surprise and delight, before I had used the whole of it, I found a new growth of hair coming on the crown of my head, and I have used it since, and the whole head is covered with a fine growth of hair. I am now using it on my whiskers, and find it to be the best article I ever used for the purpose. Yours, &c.,

JOHN ANDERSON.

The receipts of Corn to-day were heavy, amounting to over 125,000 bushels; and the market under this supply and the gloomy news from New York became very much depressed and declined 1c. About 100,000 bushels changed hands, at 42c for No. 2 Canal afloat; 42@42 1/2c for No. 2 Canal afloat; 43@44c for No. 1 in store; 43@43 1/2c for No. 2 in store; and 40c for Rejected—the market closing heavy at that. Wheat was scarce and firm—sales being rather limited at $1.10 for No. 1 Spring in store; $1.07 @1.08 for No. 2 Spring; and $1.12 for No. 1 Winter Wheat was 1@2c lower and more active, at $1.13 for No. 1 White, $1.10@1.12 for No. 1 Red, and $1.05 for No. 2 Red. The propeller Cuyahoga was engaged to day to take several thousand bushels of new winter wheat to Buffalo—the first shipment of the season. Oats were quoted and 1c lower, with sales of No. 1 at 25 1/2@26c in store. Rye was sold at 50c per 80 lbs. Barley neglected. The flour market was quiet, with limited sales of Spring extra at $5 15; and Spring Superfine at $4.00. E. P. Hutchinson, Esq., received to-day a consignment of eighty barrels "Cascade" Flour, made from white winter wheat by Messrs. Sanders & Co., at Carbondale in this State. The sample shown was generally admired; and it is selling freely in small lots at $6.50. Highwines quiet at 18c. Whitefish scarce and in good demand at $5.50 for No. 1. Hides unchanged and rather dull. Butter steady.

Freights opened dull and rather lower; but towards the close there was more activity for vessels, and an advance of 1/2c per bushel was established. Two propellers and five sail vessels were engaged at 8c for new wheat to Buffalo, and 6 1/2c for corn.

St. Louis.—This morning's Missouri Democrat reports as follows:—

Receipts of produce were quite liberal, especially of oats and corn, and this, in connection with a rainy morning, caused a dull market, and lower prices for the two last mentioned articles. Dispatches from New Orleans, with lower corn market, principally occasioned a heavy fall in wearing the prices of this staple 1@2c per bushel, Oats also declined some 1c per bushel.

The demand for Provisions has been unusually large this week, and prices have ruled high. Mess Pork is now held at $19.50@20.00 per bri. Indeed, prices are so high as to cause fear of a small consumption, which will cause a reaction; it will at least make us hold on to the stock for a crop coes us in. It will also elevate the prospective price of Hogs, as that is the crop we are largely indebted for, at 4@5c. Hams continue to go off freely; a Quincy packer closed out the remainder of his stock of 1859 at 10c, well cured—at 11c, though city dealers get 12c easily for them. There was a fair trade in Bacon. Whisky, with sales at 17c; bankable funds, and 17c currency. Hay sold at steady quotations, of the higher prices. Sales of Tallow at 9c.

NEW YORK, July 11.—Receipts, 42,100 bush wheat, 12,100 bush corn, 7,700 bush oats, 1,000 bu outs. The Courier and Enquirer," gives the following as the movements for the week:

RECEIPTS AT STATES AND CANADA.

| | For the week. | Since Jan. 1. | Same time 1859. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Flour, bbls. | 47,650 | 1,078,174 | 1,023,261 |
| Wheat, bu. | 140,875 | 2,977,100 | 4,033,000 |

six hundred thousand quarters than last year the highest banking authorities consider the best basis for the present, and predict a large demand for American produce. Nor is this unreasonable, for the Bank of England has an outstanding security confined to the British Islands. The confidence is not likely to have any surprise. All accounts agree that the Great Southwestern control Europe have suffered much from the severity of the weather. The other South American Republics has favored this country with the assurance of a flattering harvest. Crops over the southwest are considered beyond the reach of any casualty which human intelligence can foresee, and, as a natural consequence, the surplus of the old crop is rapidly coming forward. Indeed, much of it is already on its way to meet the foreign demand.—Baltimore Sun, 13th.

FREIGHT ENGAGEMENTS AT NEW YORK.—The N. Y. Tribune of Thursday reports as follows:

The Liverpool, 15,000 bu wheat in bulk at 5 1/2d; 6,000 bu corn, and 6,000 bu wheat, on ship's berth at 6d; 1,000 bbls rosin compressed extra at 3s 3d; 60 bales wood at 5d (per measurement); 1,000 bxs cheese, at 55s; 50 bbls pork at 40s 6d; 1,000 bxs cheese, at 55s. To London, 5,000 bu wheat, in ship's hold, at 6d. A small vessel to the Isle of Jersey with flour, at 2s 3d. A vessel of 300 tons from north side of Cuba with sugar at $5.50 per hhd.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, July 17—It was recently stated in a dispatch from New Orleans that a revenue cutter had gone to overhaul the schooner J. R. Taylor, which sailed from that port for Central America, with emigrants or filibusters. A gentleman from that port has since known that several small parties of such adventurers had left there, but their movements are he considered too insignificant for serious comment.

As the old Jackson Democratic Association were thoroughly disorganized by the contending Douglas and Breckinridge members, and Douglas has taken preliminary steps to establish a Campaign Club, the one altogether independent of the others.

A petition has been numerously signed, presented to the President, and will be referred to the Secretary of War, praying for an immediate resumption of the work on the Washington aqueduct. It will be recollected that Congress appropriated half a million dollars for this purpose to be expended upon the superintendence of General Meigs. This proviso has somewhat embarrassed the Administration, but there seems to be no escape from the dilemma, unless upon the designation of third officer involves, that the operations on the aqueduct will shortly be resumed.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—All the statements representing that Mr. Bright of Indiana, had agreed to support or countenance the Douglas ticket, indirectly or otherwise, are unfounded. Resolutions have been introduced in both Houses, stating that he and his friends have organized a Breckinridge Democratic party, and will be immediately put to the hold, and that they intend to run it at all hazards, and without the least proposition of compromise.

A Washington despatch says arrangements are being made for the Democratic Convention on the Butterfield route.

Late advices from Peru state that our relations with the Republic were approaching a crisis. Mr. Jones, Secretary of Legation, had arrested at Callao with dispatches for our Minister, the instructions from the government to the settlement of the claims growing out of the seizure of the guano islands, and suspension of opinion, and provisions for a joint commission for the adjustment of all outstanding claims of our citizens. Some delay has, however, occurred in the assigning of the new position of the Peruvian Minister of Foreign Affairs, and it was not unprobable that our Government would be compelled to withdraw its Minister, or demand immediate compliance with the demands of our Government, the American Minister having withdrawn from the legation. The Peruvian Minister at Washington has been informed of the purport of the statement accent the ultimatum of the Government of Peru if the United States has proposed or furnished him.

A meeting of National Democrats, composed of many leading politicians of this city, was held at the Union House, last evening, for the purpose of organizing a Central Committee favorable to the election of Douglas and Johnson.

The stories going the rounds of the papers about the proposition to withdraw Senator Green, is officially contradicted in correspondence between him and the Post Office Department.
